

ERC20 for Gamers

The Token

SLXN is designed to give competitive players a platform to wager with community trusted opponents.

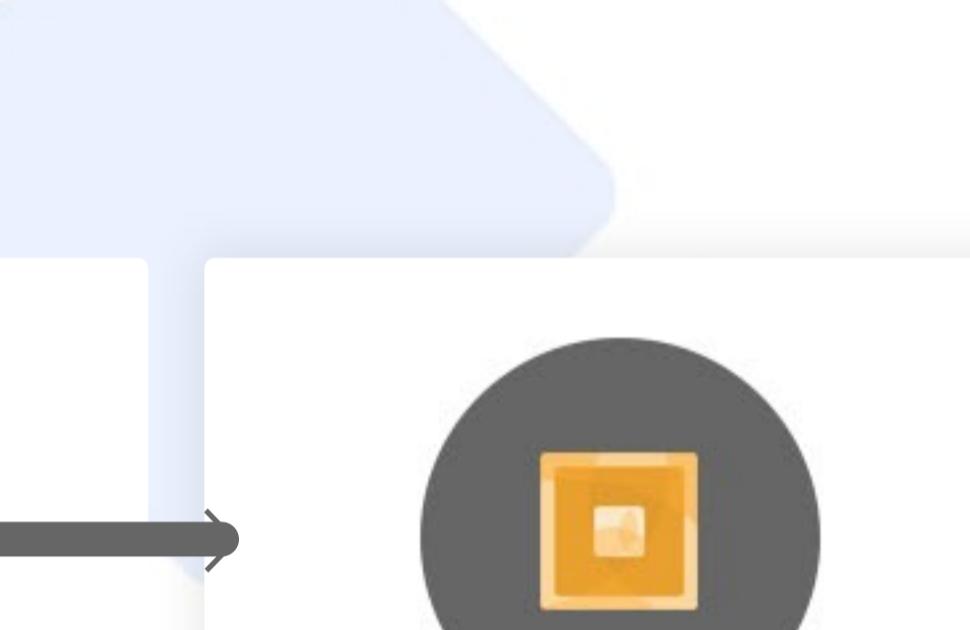

Wagering on games has long evolved.

Gamers have relied on centralized organizations for the decade to handle both the holding of funds in escrow, managing disputes, and the dispersal of funds to the winner.

We believe, with the evolution of decentralized networks, competitive gaming networks should also break through these barriers.

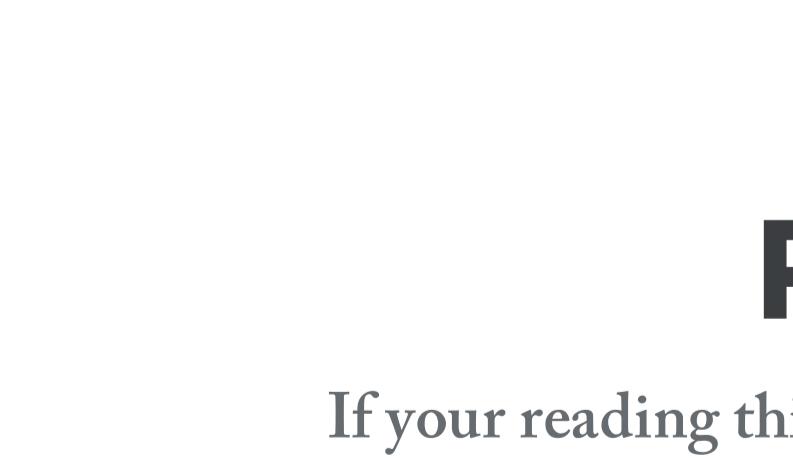

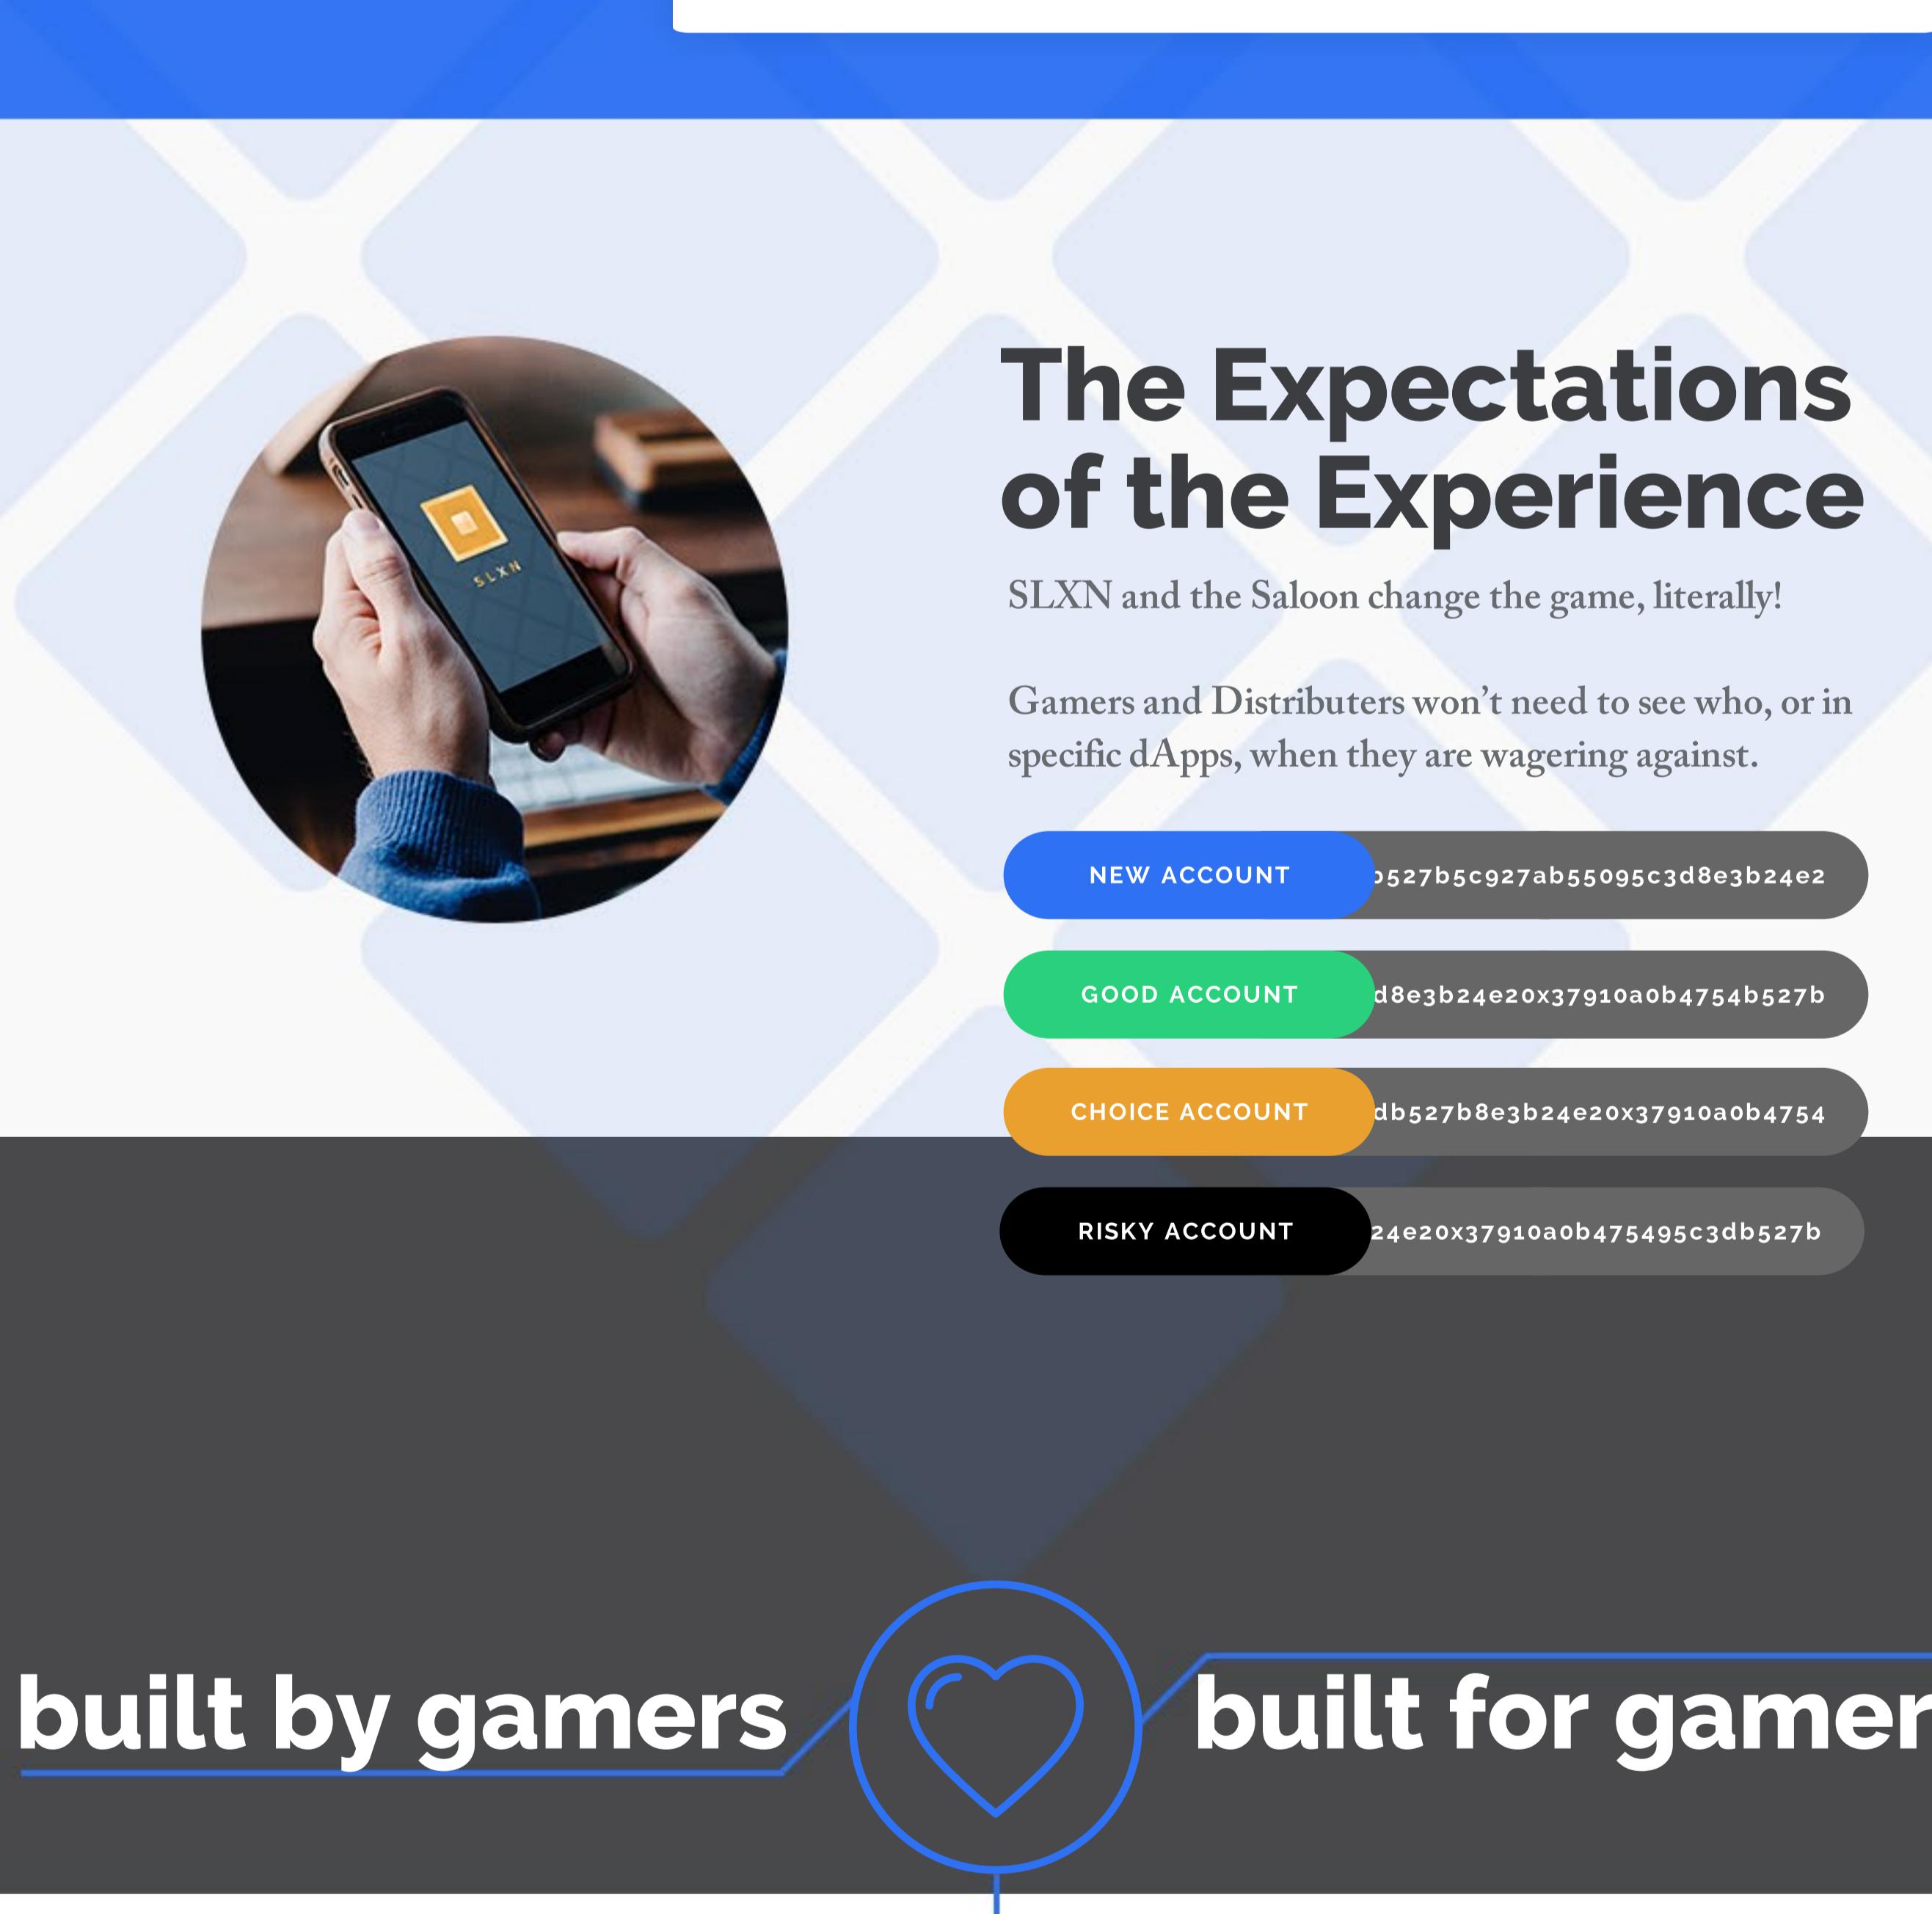

These organizations gamers have relied so heavily on for the past decade to keep malicious users out and trusted users in availability have lost touch with both gamers, and the games they play. We are building a platform for gamers to wager, dispute their opponents, resolve disputes with the help of approved voters, and become approved voters themselves.

SLXN can be thought of as waiver of trust between gamers. Decentralized applications like our pilot project SLXN Saloon, will use these non-divisible tokens to reward voters. We also aim to release a fully documented API for other developers to incorporate their games into the Saloon.

The Expectations of the Experience

SLXN and the Saloon change the game, literally!

Gamers and Distributors won't need to see who, or in specific dApps, when they are wagering against.
